Mariner Motor Hotel Is Leisure Lodge Deluxe

All the romance and adventure of a full rigged clipper ship has been incorporated into the design and construction of the spectacular new Mariner Motor Hotel and Restaurant just opened at 2450 Pacific Coast Highway, east of Crenshaw. The $1,000,000 South Bay Harbor area hotel, restaurant and lounge is the second in a chain of Leisure Lodge Motor Hotels being developed throughout the west.

Night club entertainer and recording artist Kitty White appears nightly in the lounge. Miss White has appeared at leading clubs in Hollywood, Beverly Hills, and Las Vegas and has appeared at leading clubs in Hollywood, Beverly Hills, and Las Vegas and has recorded for Mercury, Roulette, and Horizon. Her newest album, "Newborn," has just been released by Horzoning. According to Leisure Lodge operations manager, P. C. Grace, the Mariner's intent is "... to offer truly luxurious accommodations, gourmet food, and the finest in service, entertainment, and atmosphere while still maintaining reasonable prices." Joseph Charon, one of the west's leading French chefs, has provided the Mariner with a complete menu ranging from steaks, chops, and lobster to roast duckling, breast of capon under glass, and even snails, frog legs, and other delicacies. The ala carte menu offers dozens of especially prepared vegetables, soups, sauces, salads, and appetizers along with such desserts as crepe Suzettes, baked Alaska, and cherries jubilee. Dinner prices range from $2.25 to a maximum of $6.25.

"GUYS AND DOLLS," the Damon Runyon favorite, opens the 15th season of the Long Beach Civic Light Opera Association. It will be followed by a lavish production of "Flower Drum Song," "The Desert Song," and a favorite of young and old alike, "The Wizard of Oz." Pictured above preparing for their opening night roles on Nov. 1 are: Ed Grieve (foreground), Charles Nix and Howard Blevins. The direction and choreography will again be in the capable hands of Bill Roberts, and Jack Kroesen will lead the music. For ticket information call HE 2-7926.

Broadway Hit at Biltmore Theatre

After a spectacular two-year run on Broadway, Neil Simon's smash hit "Come Blow Your Horn," starring Hal March, comes to the Biltmore Theatre for four weeks, beginning Monday, Nov. 12. The comedy about the gap between generations, focusing on parents who cannot get through to their children, was a sleeper. It arrived in New York unheralded and overnight became a "hot ticket," a tribute to the talents of its author (who is presently writing the stage adaptation of Patrick Dennis' riotous book, "Little Me").

"Come Blow Your Horn" deals with a full-fledged playboy who has an apartment and a string of women and is eloquently described by his father as an "educated bum." A wildly funny situation develops when the rake's younger brother, an astonishingly innocent 21-year-old, decides to break his home ties and move in with his brother as a kind of "playboy trainee." The family upheaval caused by the young man's action is heightened by the moaning, Martyred Mama and the thunderous, indignant Papa.

The two years of total hilarity sparked by the play both on Broadway and on world-wide road tours stem from the audience's indentification with the characters. Presented by the Greek Theatre Association, James A. Doolittle, General Director, "Come Blow Your Horn" is the first play of the 1962-63 Theatre Guild subscription series. Appearing with Hal March will be Morris Carnovsky, Warren Berlinger, and Henrietta Jacobson.
